

University of Texas at Tyler

Scholar Works at UT Tyler

The Forum

Marketing & Communications Records

Fall 1987

Forum vol. 14 no. 1

University of Texas at Tyler

Follow this and additional works at: <https://scholarworks.uttyler.edu/forum>

Recommended Citation

University of Texas at Tyler, "Forum vol. 14 no. 1" (1987). The Forum. Paper 5.
<http://hdl.handle.net/10950/3661>

This PDF is brought to you for free and open access by the Marketing & Communications Records at Scholar Works at UT Tyler. It has been accepted for inclusion in The Forum by an authorized administrator of Scholar Works at UT Tyler. For more information, please contact tgullings@uttyler.edu.

the Forum

THE UNIVERSITY OF TEXAS AT TYLER

Fall 1987

President's Podium

Dr. George F. Hamm

(Editor's Note: The following remarks are excerpts from the commencement speech by Dr. Hamm to graduates at the 1987 Summer Commencement.)

Tonight is the night that you move from one station in life to another — to apply these newly acquired skills to the needs of society.

Those who helped you make your dream possible — your parents and spouses, other family members, and every taxpayer in this state and nation — justifiably expect such a return on their investment.

They recognize that your education has equipped you to become an independent thinker, has assisted you in providing a capacity to better develop your own values, to apply such values and ethical principles to action, and to understand the values of others.

It has allowed you greater appreciation of your own cultural heritage and a better understanding of other cultures.

The University of Texas at Tyler has provided you opportunities to better appreciate individual responsibilities to meet societal needs, and to have a firmer grasp on the problems facing our contemporary world — problems in the Persian Gulf, the Iran/Contra Affair, terrorism, drugs, AIDS, refugees, hunger, and pollution.

As you take your diploma tonight, you carry with it an intellectual commitment to have the open mindedness to question pertinently, but to respect intellectual sincerity.

Your Alma Mater has afforded you the opportunity to mediate between the great polarities of our times, between East and Mid-East, West, North, and Central and South America — the cultured and the uncultured — rich and poor — black and white.

Applying these skills will give cause to raise deeply disturbing questions about the way we conduct our lives at the local, state, and national level, to have greater tolerance of others, to have compassion for those who cannot help themselves, to be a voice for the poor and the speechless, and the elderly, and the unemployable — not those unwilling to work, but those unable to work — and for all those whose rights are not equal.

They will cause you to ask deeply disturbing questions about the way we conduct our foreign policy, about our astonishingly lack of knowledge about problems in the global community and the international arena, to get one's attention when the common good is not served.

Finally, allow me to say that the future of our community, state, and nation is related directly to the quality of education at all levels. Just as those who preceded you have invested in your future, so too must you invest in those who follow.

But how do you calculate the learning potential of students who are aspiring educators, lawyers, doctors, researchers?

How do you calculate their contributions to themselves, their families, their communities, their state, their nation, and the world?

How do you calculate the value of inquiring minds eager to learn?

How do you calculate the abilities of bright and eager students?

How do you place a price on the value of education for the rich and the poor, the young and the old?

In a free society, education absolutely must be available to all who have a desire to learn.

It is your obligation to ensure that that opportunity is preserved for all people.

Forum

THE UNIVERSITY OF TEXAS AT TYLER

The official magazine of
The University of Texas at Tyler

Fall 1987

Vol. 14, No. 1

Dr. George F. Hamm, president

Board of Regents:

Jack S. Blanton, chairman; Shannon H. Ratliff, vice-chairman; Bill Roden, vice-chairman; Arthur H. Dilly, executive secretary; Robert B. Baldwin III; Jess Hay; Mario Yzaguirre; Sam Barshop; Louis A. Beecherl, Jr.; W.A. "Tex" Moncrief, Jr.;

Dr. Hans Mark, chancellor

FORUM is published by The University of Texas at Tyler Office of Public Information, Mark R. Heckmann, director. Forum editorial staff: Laura Hughes, information writer; Winston Green, graphic design; Kyle Stewart, photography; Cynthia Hullum, typography; Lona Kennedy, contributor.

UT TYLER (USPS 362850) is published and issued eight times per year January, March, May, July, October, November, and twice in April by The University of Texas at Tyler. Second class postage paid, Tyler, Texas 75701.

Postmaster: Send address changes to The University of Texas at Tyler, 3900 University Boulevard, Tyler, TX. 75701.

Life in foreign lands

UT Tyler graduates share experiences

page 4

page 12

page 14

page 18

Cover story

Regents meeting 2

Alumni

Far away places, new liaison, Fun Run winners, distinguished student, honorary membership, executive board 4

Development

Major gifts, Patriots of the Year, lecturers announced 10

Faculty

Elizabeth Dunn, Amoco Award, Piper nominee, management series 14

Students

Veterinary medicine, PTK honors, Academic All-Americans, Who's Who 18

About our cover

"Untitled," this sculpture of painted wood by student Patricia Aycok provides a colorful addition to the UT Tyler campus outside the Robert R. Muntz Library. The work is one of several created by art students and displayed on campus during the spring semester.

Jack S. Blanton

Jack Blanton Elected Chairman at UT Tyler Meeting

Ratliff, Roden Named Vice Chairmen

The election of Jack S. Blanton of Houston as chairman of the board of regents of The University of Texas System focused statewide attention on UT Tyler where the nine-member board met in June.

At its UT Tyler meeting, the board also elected regents Shannon H. Ratliff of Austin and Bill Roden of Midland as vice chairmen. Blanton, Ratliff and Roden all were appointed to the board in February 1985.

After the meeting, Blanton told reporters, "Our goal is to have a University of Texas System that will be the finest of anywhere, any place."

Blanton, 59, is chairman of the board and chief executive officer of Scurlock Oil Company, a company he joined in 1950, and also is vice president of the Eddy Refining Company.

In addition, he has served as a member of the board of directors of Texas Commerce Bancshares and of Texas Commerce Bank, N.A.; Texas Commerce Bank-River Oaks; a member of the board of directors of Southwestern Bell; a member of the board of directors of Gordon Jewelry Corporation; and a board member of United Energy Resources. He also has served as a member of the board of directors of Texas Medical Center, Inc.

Blanton has been president of Mid-Continent Oil & Gas Association and is active in other oil industry organizations.

In 1947, Blanton received his bachelor of arts degree from UT Austin, where he graduated from law school in 1950. His many honors from UT Austin include the Southwest Conference tennis championship in 1945; past president of the Ex-Students' Association; and recipient of the 1978 Distinguished Alumnus Award. In May 1976 he received a honorary doctor of laws degree from Centenary College in Shreveport.

Ratliff first was elected a vice-chairman in 1985. An attorney in Austin, he has been a member of the Board of Law Examiners and has served as a member and chairman of the Texas Public Safety Commission.

Ratliff received his bachelor's degree from UT Austin and graduated with honors from the UT Law School in 1964.

Roden, of Midland, has been in the oil and gas exploration business throughout his career. He attended UT Austin from 1940-43 and during 1946. During World War II he was a fighter pilot in the U.S. Marine Corps.

"Our goal is to have a University of Texas System that will be the finest of anywhere, anyplace"

— Jack S. Blanton

While a student, he was a member of the Longhorn golf team. In 1943, he won the Southwest Conference individual championship and was runner-up individually in the National Intercollegiate golf championship.

Other regents attending the meeting at UT Tyler were outgoing chairman Jess Hay of Dallas; Robert B. Baldwin, Austin; Sam Barshop, San Antonio; Louis A. Beecherl Jr., Dallas; W.A. "Tex" Moncrief Jr., Fort Worth; and Mario Yzaguirre, Brownsville. Barshop, Beecherl and Moncrief, the newest members of the board, were appointed this year to terms which expire in 1993.

"Having the regents on our campus underscores the positive impact of this university on our region and the entire state," said President George F. Hamm. "UT Tyler enrolls more than 3,600 students, has awarded more than 6,000 bachelor's and master's degrees, provides approximately 300 jobs and makes an essential contribution to the educational, economic and cultural vitality of East Texas."

Chancellor Dr. Hans Mark

UT System officials at the meeting included Chancellor Dr. Hans Mark; Executive Vice Chancellor of Academic Affairs Dr. James P. Duncan; Executive Vice Chancellor for Health Affairs Dr. Charles B.

Jess Hay

Mullins; and Executive Vice Chancellor for Asset Management Michael E. Patrick.

"Having the regents on our campus underscores the positive impact of this university on our region and this entire state"

— President George F. Hamm

The UT System includes 14 components, including eight general academic institutions and six health institutions, enrolling a total of more than 110,000 students. ★

REGENTS MEETING — The University of Texas System Board of Regents elects new chairman and vice chairmen at its June meeting in the UT Tyler University Center.

Life in foreign lands

UT Tyler graduates share experiences

*"Those far away places
with the strange sounding names
far away over the sea,
those far away places
with the strange sounding names are calling, calling me. . ."*

— "Far Away Places"

Those "far away places" are currently home to more than 30 UT Tyler graduates. Four who have answered the call of distant lands — Victor Hoepfner (B.S., industrial technology, 1982), Margie Parish (M.A. interdisciplinary studies, 1984), Leslie Bartley (M.Ed., curriculum and instruction, 1978) and Belinda Caudle (B.S., medical technology, 1981) — recently shared with us some of their experiences as Americans living and working in foreign countries.

Victor Hoepfner

Israel

A day on the job as an industrial engineer for Galtronics, Ltd. in Tiberias, Israel today often is reflective of skills and techniques Hoepfner learned as a student in UT Tyler technology classes more than five years ago.

"In many of my industrial technology classes with Dr. Tommy Gilbreath and Dr. Donald Garrison (associate professors of technology), we would break up the class into small groups for 'brainstorming sessions' to find the best possible solution to a problem and I gained a lot of insight from the professors as well as other students who had been working in industry for years. This has been most helpful in my career today," he said. "At Galtronics, our small engineering team (four persons, including myself) 'brainstorms' on each project to obtain the best results."

Hoepfner is responsible for developing new products, production procedures and quality control standards, and establishing production specifications. On the job since June 1983, Hoepfner expects to be in Israel "indefinitely" as his company continues to expand its operations there.

"Our company is looking forward to setting up other factories in Israel. I hope to be involved in setting them up and in training people for various production procedures," he says.

"There are always new products to be developed in the communications field."

When the brainstorming is over and there is time to relax, Hoepfner enjoys swimming in the Sea of Galilee and hiking to the "many fantastic places to explore. Israel is the land of the Bible and living here brings to life the places, people and events of the Bible," he added.

"... living here brings to life the places, people and events of the Bible"

Hoepfner, who has also worked in Spain and on the island of Trinidad, says the pace of life in each country he has lived is less hurried than in the United States and less materialistic, although Israel is rapidly becoming westernized.

"Banking is a nightmare" in Israel, he says. And his biggest adjustment from the U.S. culture to Israel's was "getting used to a beef-less diet. But over the years I feel much healthier with the change of diet to mostly fish, fresh fruit and vegetables."

The former Bridgeport, N.J. resident describes Israel as "about the size of New Jersey, sitting in a very strategic location on the Mediterranean Sea. It's a land full of natural beauty, from the snow-covered slopes of Mount Hermon to the stillness of the Dead Sea to the amazing detail and colors in the coral reef of Eilat."

Meeting and developing friendships with people from a variety of cultural backgrounds are his most memorable experiences. "From my experience, Israelis love America and Americans. Politically, America is the only real ally or friend of Israel, even though the relationship is strained by different instances from both countries," he said.

Margie Parish Malaysia

A national film star in Malaysia, thanks to a starring role in a filmlet to promote tourism in that country, Parish says the notoriety has resulted in getting to know the people of her adopted country more quickly.

"The filmlet was aired daily on national television here in Malaysia, and as a result many people recognize me and have been very friendly and helpful," she says.

As communications specialist and lecturer for the College of Preparatory Studies, Institut Teknologi in Selangor, Malaysia (a cooperative project through UT Arlington), Parish teaches and serves as coordinator for the speech/communications department.

"There is a lot of American programming in English on the government controlled television. The program I am involved in teaching is a joint effort between Texas and Malaysia to educate Malay students in professional areas," she said.

Her favorite aspect of the country is its people, she says, "especially my Malay students, who are very polite, intelligent, delightful and hard workers."

"I want to focus my teaching towards graduate students with an emphasis on rhetoric and peace communication"

However, "not everyone here loves America or Americans," Parish states. "After the bombing of Libya in April 1986, many of my students gave irate speeches about America's methods of dealing with Libya. Malaysia is a muslim country as is Libya and there was a tremendous amount of sympathy for Libya and anger at America. . . The national view towards Americans seems to be generally very positive even though Malaysia has a military strategy of non-alignment to protect themselves from begin buffeted between the superpowers."

Tropical heat and even hotter food — "hot spicy foods that literally take the breath away — hotter than any Mexican food that we Texans are accustomed to" — have been the most difficult cultural adjustments to make.

"I also miss the aesthetics of a much more modern and comfortable working environment — air-conditioned classrooms, adequate supplies and ice-cold water fountains," she added.

Having her 22-year-old son join her last December and deciding to remain for a while has taken the edge off homesickness for her, as well as providing him with "a very interesting and unique opportunity to learn about varied cultures and different religious and political systems."

Parish says recreation and entertainment ranges from attending plays at a dinner theater in Kuala Lumpur (the captiol city of Malaysia), art and photo exhibits and musical presentations to small dinner parties and "a fun domino game with Texas colleagues called 42."

Parish recalls UT Tyler's Dr. Jeanie Stanley, associate professor of political science, as "a dynamic and stimulating professor" and credits Dr. Wallace Schmidt, associate professor of speech, with much of her teaching success.

"Dr. Schmidt encouraged, advised and inspired me," she says. "I tremendously enjoyed the group participation in the communications classes and have adopted many of the teaching methods that I experienced at UT Tyler into my own teaching style."

Parish plans to remain in Malaysia until December of this year and possibly longer. Her future plans include the completion of her Ph.D., which she is working on through UT Arlington, and a teaching/research position with a university.

"I want to focus my teaching towards graduate students with an emphasis on rhetoric and peace communication," she says.

Leslie Bartley Jamaica

Bartley's most memorable experience as director of the Assemblies of God Bible College (AGBC) in Christiana, West Indies, Jamaica, he says, was "the day we opened the doors of AGBC for the first time and saw 12 students hungry for knowledge, waiting to be taught the principles of God's word."

"Without the knowledge from the courses at UT Tyler, I could never have been successful"

"The number has grown to 30 in three years, but I am still awed at the drive and dedication of the students. This same emotional experience remains as I travel to 10 extension schools and see the same hunger on the faces of approximately 200 students."

His responsibilities include that of teacher, pastor, extension schools supervisor and secretary/treasurer of the missionary fellowship in Jamaica.

"I have had to develop the Christian Education program from the very foundation. Without the knowledge from the courses at UT Tyler, I could never have been successful," states Bartley, whose future plans include earning doctorates in education and in ministry.

"The classes spent with Dr. Steven Daniels, associate professor of education, in curriculum and instruction courses" stand out in his memories of UT Tyler. "The faculty and students at UT Tyler were of the highest caliber," he adds.

Jamaica's beaches and waterfalls provide outstanding recreation, including swimming and deep sea fishing in the Carribean. The third largest island in the Carribean, the nation's main industries are tourism, mining and two cash crops — bananas and sugar cane. Jamaicans are proud of their roots, yet live in extreme poverty; most Jamaicans must live on less than one thousand U.S. dollars a year, he said.

"Jamaicans are like most other people in the world. They have mixed feelings and opinions about America, but for the most part their opinions are favorable."

His wife, Frances, teaches music at AGBC and helps pastor the Assemblies of God Tabernacle in Christiana. "She also is very busy teaching our two children at home, since there isn't an uncrowded school near us," he said.

"The people I work with each day" are what Bartley likes best about the country. "They are friendly, warm and a loving people. Jamaicans are like most other people in the world. They have mixed feelings and opinions about America, but for the most part their opinions are favorable."

His most difficult adjustment to the Jamaican culture as been "the time factor. We in the United States are geared to the clock; Jamaicans are event oriented," he explains. "A time is set for an appointment but it does not begin until the people arrive, maybe one or two hours later."

"Moving to a house with a tin roof, holes in the walls in several places, no sinks and running water only from a faucet in the floor of the bathroom, and having to wash clothes and dishes outside has probably been my most memorable experience," Caudle says of her five years in Mexico.

Caudle and her husband Joe oversee and assist the work of missions and churches in the state of Veracruz, Mexico for the Baptist Missionary Association of America.

"Living in Mexico can be compared to living in the United States in the time of my mother or grandmother, 40 - 50 years ago," she says. "The people here still are concerned and involved in the lives of their

"We have gained much, not in wealth but in experiences and in love people have shown us here" neighbors — people help other people and share."

The country's "relaxed and slower pace of life" is both what she likes most and dislikes most. "No one is in a hurry to get things done, even if you are. Also, many places still are without phone service and where there is service it is undependable."

Caudle enjoys the abundance of fresh fruits and vegetables, many available the year-round, as well as swimming, shopping and visiting historical sites.

She misses "the ease of obtaining what you need or want. Also, Dr. Pepper, pickles, and cornbread."

She remembers many milestones in her life at UT Tyler.

"Dr. Donald McLaugherty, associate professor of chemistry, started me off at UT Tyler, as he does others every year, challenging all of us to go for our dreams and not give up. The many hours spent learning from Dr. James Stewart, professor of biology, opened up a whole world of thought for me," she says. "My last year of clinical training will remain as one of the most memorable times. . . without the encouragement, challenges and just friendship of Dr. Jim Koukl, director of medical technology, I don't think any of us would have made it through clinicals."

As for the future, "five years from now I hope to be doing about the same thing I am doing now, except in a different place — leaving an established church here in this city. In addition, I hope to work in a clinic established here where I can use the skills I learned at UT Tyler.

"We have gained much," she concludes, "not in wealth but in experiences and in the love people have shown us here. We have learned that people all over the world and in all cultures are basically the same and have the same great need — to be loved."

Although their experiences are diverse, Hoepfner, Parish, Bartley and Caudle each listed similar prerequisites to living in another country: some prior knowledge about the country and its culture, flexibility, and a sense of humor — particularly the ability to laugh at one's self.

As Bartley advises, "When you arrive, realize you are the foreigner and have much to learn." ★ distinguished student

Betty S. Helt of Tyler is recipient of the UT Tyler Alumni Association's Distinguished Student Award for 1987.

Helt, who received her bachelor's degree in journalism at the university this spring, attended UT Tyler on an academic scholarship and was named to the President's Honor Roll. She is a member of Alpha Chi national honor society and served as a member of the Student Life Committee, treasurer for the Student Association and the Press Club, and as Patriot circulation manager.

While completing her bachelor's, Helt worked as a public relations intern at Brookshire Grocery Company in Tyler. She previously attended Oklahoma State University, Central State University and Tyler Junior College, and plans to work on a master's at UT Tyler.

Betty S. Helt

Her community roles include chairperson of Trane Wives, officer of the Parent Teacher Association and Camp Fire Girls Blue Birds leader. She was a representative of Tyler at the Sister Cities International 30th anniversary conference in Los Angeles in 1986 and was selected for this year's edition of Who's Who in American Colleges and Universities.

The Distinguished Student Award is given annually to a graduating senior. Recipients are chosen for their academic merit, involvement in university and community activities, and potential for future success.

alumni notes...

Marilyn Bailey (M.Ed., special education, 1985) teaches for the Tatum Independent School District.

Michael G. Crocker (B.S.N., 1985) is a second lieutenant who has completed U.S. Air Force military indoctrination for medical service officers at Sheppard AFB, Texas.

David Davis (M.B.A., 1979) owns and operates Davis Real Estate in Grand Saline.

Katherine Patterson (M.S., interdisciplinary studies, 1985) is an instructor of biology at Lon Morris College, Jacksonville.

Rick Rayford (B.B.A., general business, 1976) has been named warehouse operations supervisor for Brookshire Grocery Company, Tyler.

Mitchell Schumer (B.B.A., management, 1985) is a sales representative for Standard Supply Company, Dallas.

Nan Sheldon (M.A., interdisciplinary studies, 1984) teaches music in the Lindale ISD.

Jane Smith (B.S.Ed., elementary education, 1983) a third grade teacher in the Hallsville ISD, has been named Woman of the Year by the Leornian chapter of the American Business Women's Association.

Rodney L. Stephen (B.B.A., accounting, 1983), a private first class in the U.S. Army, has completed an equipment storage specialist course at the U.S. Army Quartermaster School, Fort Lee, Va.

Sue Ann Tuttle (M.Ed., 1975) has been appointed principal of St. Gregory Elementary School, Tyler.

Debra Marcene Hamilton Vaughn (B.S., secondary education, 1980) teaches biology, chemistry and physics for the Arp. ISD.

Robin Pascucci Wolters (B.P.A., accounting, 1984) is an accountant with Gollob, Morgan, Reddy & Company, CPAS, Tyler.

Alumni introduce new liaison

June Bandy

UT Tyler's Alumni Association introduced a new leader this spring with alumnae June Bandy bringing her talents to the staff position of executive secretary of alumni affairs.

Bandy, who received a B.S. degree in journalism from UT Tyler in 1982, is responsible for coordinating alumni activities and serving as a liaison between the association and the university.

Among her goals, she says, are "to obtain information about alumni, to expand our regional representation and to increase the number of life members."

"We never want to 'lose' an alumnus — we want to keep in touch. . ."
 — June Bandy

A native East Texan, Bandy held marketing positions in Houston at Interfirst Bank-Fannin and United Bank-Houston before returning to Tyler in 1985. She later served as regional director for the American Heart Association, where she was responsible for fundraising, program implementation and communication for a 2-county area of East Texas.

"We never want to 'lose' an alumnus — we want to keep in touch with them to find out where they are living and what they've doing, as well as keep them informed about UT Tyler's growth and activities," Bandy states.

"Another goal is to expand our regional representation and activity, starting with Longview — a large number of our graduates are from Longview and we need to increase our visibility there. We're also starting a regional advisory board in addition to the executive board.

"I'd also like to increase the number of life members in the association. The contribution is placed in our permanent endowment fund and is an excellent way for alumni to help the university through scholarships. The $500 contribution can be paid in an installment plan tailored to an individual's needs," she said.

Former All-American leads fun run

Fourteen East Texas area residents and an All-American runner from the University of Arkansas took home trophies in the Diet Coke Scholarship Fun Run/Walk on the UT Tyler campus April 11.

Overall winner and first place finisher in the men's division was Dave Barney of Scottsdale, Ariz., a former All-American runner from the University of Arkansas and competitor in the World Cross Country Championship in Poland, with a race time of 14:51.

Debbie Peebles of Mineola took first place in the women's division, clocking in at 19:30.

Winners in each age group of the men's division were: Charles Jennings, Jacksonville, 18:52, 14 and under; Eddie Caffrey, Tyler, 21:31, 15 - 19; C. McKenzie, Tyler, 17:49, 20 - 29 and third overall; Tom Brown, Tyler, 17:18, 30 - 39 and second overall; Charles Briley, Rusk, 18:51, 40 - 49; Merle G. Maxwell, Jacksonville, 19:58, 50 - 59; J.B. Outlaw, Tyler, 23:27, 60 and over.

Women's division winners by age groups were: Nyla Garvason, Chandler, 42:29, 14 and under; Tanya Nash, Chandler, 26:59, 15 - 19; Laurie Cummins, Sherman, 22:44, 20 - 29 and third overall; Liz Quinn, Tyler, 22:12, 30 - 39 and second overall; Sally Keasler, Tyler, 31:17, 40 - 49; and Frances Hargreaves, Longview, 28:11, 50 - 59.

Proceeds from the run benefitted the UT Tyler Alumni Association Scholarship Fund.

FUN RUN WINNERS — Debbie Peebles, women's division winner, and Dave Barney, men's division and overall winner, display their trophies.

Alumni Association Life Member

Dr. George F. Hamm, president of UT Tyler, has been awarded an honorary life membership in the UT Tyler Alumni Association in commemoration of his five years of service to the university.

"During the five years under Dr. Hamm's leadership, the university has grown in both prestige and enrollment. In striving to strengthen the educational quality of UT Tyler and to promote attitudes favorable to higher education in the East Texas area, Dr. Hamm has cultivated such support groups as the Patriots, the President's Associates and Friends of the Arts.

"He was also instrumental in the formation of the Alumni Association, a vital organization in any dynamic university," said J.M. (Mick) Bandy, Alumni Association vice-president.

"Furthermore, Dr. Hamm has brought international attention and recognition to East Texas, and to the city of Tyler in particular, with such programs as the Distinguished Lecture Series, the Windsor-Richardson Summer Scholars Program and the Eisenhower International Golf Classic," he said.

The Alumni Association Executive Committee unanimously voted to bestow Hamm the association's highest honor, which was presented at a special reception at Tyler's Plaza Club.

PRESIDENTIAL HONOR — Dr. George F. Hamm, UT Tyler president, receives the Alumni Association's honorary life member award from alumni president Gloria Davis and alumni vice-president J.M. (Mick) Bandy.

Alumni board elected

JM. "Mick Bandy" has been elected president of the UT Tyler Alumni Association for 1987-88.

Bandy, a Tyler attorney, is joined by other officers Mike Goldsberry, vice president; Mary Elizabeth Dorsey, secretary; and Mark Loughmiller, treasurer.

Bandy, an attorney in Tyler, practices in the areas of civil trial and bankruptcy law. He is a graduate of South Texas College of Law and earned a B.S. with honors from UT Tyler. He serves on the UT Tyler Development Board, the director's council of the UT Health Center at Tyler, the American Heart Association's board of directors and the environmental committee of Heart of Tyler, Inc. He is a life member of the UT Tyler Alumni Association.

Goldsberry, area manager of Coca Cola Bottling Company, is working toward a B.B.A. in marketing at UT Tyler. An active member of the Alumni Association's executive board for three years, he has provided vital support to the annual Fun Run and served as awards committee chairperson for 1986-87.

Dorsey earned a B.S. in history from UT Tyler and is working toward an M.A. in interdisciplinary studies at the university. She is employed as secretary to the School of Liberal Arts dean and is a member of the Webb Historical Society, the Audubon Society and has served as secretary/treasurer of Phi Alpha Theta honorary history society. She was chairperson of the Alumni Association scholarship committee for 1986-87.

Loughmiller, vice president and internal auditor at East Texas Savings and Loan Association, received a B.B.A. in management from UT Tyler. Currently enrolled in the university's M.B.A. program, he is a member of Alpha Chi national honor society and has served as president and treasurer of the Tyler Rose Runners.

Other members of the executive board include Carolyn Halbrooks Bain, Hollie George Baker, A. Lee Burch, Holly Walker Butcher, Gloria Davis, David Hudson, Clarlynn Jones, and Ronald M. Serber.

University receives major gifts

Three major gifts to UT Tyler totaling more than $950,000 have been accepted officially by the UT System Board of Regents.

Donors include the estate of Mattie Alice Scroggin Baker of Tyler, Mr. and Mrs. John D. Glass, Jr. of Tyler and Dr. and Mrs. William Pirtle of Tyler.

The estate of Mattie Alice Scroggin Baker of Tyler is giving UT Tyler a gift estimated to exceed $900,000 to establish the Scroggin Scholarship Fund. Income earned from the endowment will be used to award scholarships.

Mrs. Baker, who was born in Noonday and educated in the Tyler school system, received her B.S. in education from UT Austin. She served as a teacher in the Tyler Independent School District. Her husband, John W. Baker, Jr., who preceded her in death, owned the Baker Electric Company in Tyler.

Mr. and Mrs. Glass have given the university a gift of securities valued at approximately $38,000 to establish an endowed presidential scholarship and the President's Associates Endowment Fund. Income earned from the President's Associates Endowment Fund will be used to establish lifetime memberships in the President's Associates, Friends of the Arts, and the Distinguished Lecture Series at UT Tyler.

Mr. Glass, born in Oklahoma City, Okla., received his B.B.A., and L.L.B. from UT Austin and is a member of the Chancellor's Council. His wife, Joanne, received her B.S. from UT Austin and is on the College of Liberal Arts Foundation Advisory Council at UT Austin.

Dr. and Mrs. Pirtle have given UT Tyler $25,000 to establish the Joyce and Bill Pirtle Endowed Presidential Scholarship at UT Tyler. Income earned from the endowment will be used to award scholarships to students meeting the criteria of the Presidential Scholarship Program. Dr. Pirtle received his B.A. in Arts and Sciences from UT Austin and is a retired physician who currently owns and operates the Pirtle Gallery in Tyler. He is a member of the President's Associates of UT Tyler. Mrs. Pirtle serves on the Advisory Committee for the Friends of the Arts at UT Tyler.

"The foresight and generosity of such distinguished East Texans as Mrs. Baker, John and Joanne Glass, and Bill and Joyce Pirtle enables UT Tyler to achieve a new level of excellence in serving the vital educational and research needs of our state and nation," said university president Dr. George F. Hamm.

"We are deeply grateful to these friends of the university for their strong support of our educational mission. Their gifts reflect the enormous commitment of the people of this region to UT Tyler," he said.

Mr. and Mrs. John D. Glass Jr.

Dr. and Mrs. William Pirtle

Nancy Lake, Mattie Alice Scroggin Baker

Patriots of the Year

Mattie Alice Scroggin Baker

Nancy Lake

Nancy Lake and Mattie Alice Scroggin Baker, two UT Tyler benefactors who served the university and the community throughout their lives, have been named Patriots of the Year for 1986-87.

Lake served numerous civic, educational and cultural organizations. She was a member of the development boards of UT Tyler and the UT Health Center at Tyler, as well as a member of the boards of the UT Tyler Educational Foundation, Tyler Area Chamber of Commerce, East Texas Hospital Foundation, and Texas Chest Foundation.

Vice-president of Lake Ronel Oil Company, she was a member of the UT Tyler President's Associates and the President's Associates of UT Austin, her alma mater. She served on the finance committee of Marvin United Methodist Church, was active in the Texas Rose Festival and Junior League of Tyler, and was a member of Kappa Kappa Gamma sorority.

Mattie Alice Scroggin Baker received her undergraduate degrees in history from Tyler Junior College and UT Austin, and a master's degree from East Texas State University where she received recognition for her outstanding thesis on Camp Ford. A native of Noonday, she taught at schools in Tyler and Troup until her retirement in 1972, and was generous in her time and monetary support of the Tyler Public Library during her retirement years.

She was a member of Tyler's First Baptist Church and numerous educational organizations, including the Retired Teachers Association, Delta Kappa Gamma, Woman's Forum, the Literary Club and the East Texas Genealogical Society. She was married to John W. Baker Jr., owner of Baker Electric Company in Tyler who preceded her in death in 1985.

DISTINGUISHED LECTURE SERIES

1987 • 1988

Kissinger opens Lec

A Nobel Peace Prize recipient, the past national chairman of the Democratic Party and a television journalist from one of America's most popular news programs will make the 1987-88 Distinguished Lecture Series one of the most extraordinary presentations of guest speakers ever at The University of Texas at Tyler.

Dr. Henry Kissinger, Secretary of State under two United States presidents and recipient of the Nobel Peace Prize, will open the lecture series Sept. 22; Robert S. Strauss, former presidential advisor and past chairman of the Democratic National Committee, will be featured speaker Nov. 12; and John Palmer, newscaster for NBC News's Today program will speak March 8.

Dr. Henry Kissinger

At present, Kissinger is chairman of Kissinger Associates, Inc., an international consulting firm.

In addition to serving as Secretary of State under Presidents Ford and Nixon, Kissinger was national security advisor for six years and most recently served as chairman of the Bipartisan Commission on Central America.

Upon leaving the State Department in 1977, he accepted the position of university professor of diplomacy at the School of Foreign Service and counselor to the Center for Strategic and International Studies, both at Georgetown University.

Kissinger also is a member of the President's Foreign Intelligence Advisory Board, a counselor to the Chase Manhattan Bank and a member of its International Advisory Committee, a member of the Commission on Integrated Long-Term Strategy of the National Security Council and Defense Department, and an honorary governor of the Foreign Policy Association.

Among his other activities, he is a member of the boards of directors of American Express Company, Union Pacific Corporation and R.H. Macy and Company, a trustee of the Rockefeller Brothers Fund and of the Metropolitan Museum of Art, a director of the International Rescue Committee, and contributing analyst for ABC News.

In addition to the Nobel Peace Prize, which he was awarded in 1973, Kissinger received the Presidential Medal of Freedom, the nation's highest civilian award, in 1977 and the Medal of Liberty in 1981.

Born in Germany in 1923, he came to the United States in 1938 and was naturalized a U.S. citizen in 1943. He served in the U.S. Army from 1943 to 1946. Kissinger received his bachelor's degree summa cum laude at Harvard College in 1950 and his master's and doctoral degrees at Harvard University in 1952 and 1954.

From 1954 to 1969 he was a member of the faculty of Harvard University, both in the Department of Government and the Center for International Affairs. He was director of the Harvard International Seminar from 1952 to 1969. He served as consultant to the White House during the Kennedy Administration and to the Department of State during the Johnson Administration.

Robert S. Strauss

Strauss served as chairman of the Democratic National Committee from 1973 to 1976, and in 1977 entered the Cabinet of President Carter, serving as Special Trade Representative.

Over the next two-and-a-half years, he successfully concluded the Tokyo Round of Multi-lateral Trade Negotiations and directed its passage through Congress which culminated in the Trade Act of 1979.

Following completion of the trade agreements, President Carter asked Strauss to serve as his personal representative to the Middle East Peace Negotiations. Strauss received the Presidential Medal of Freedom in 1980.

His other positions in the Democratic Party include national committeeman from Texas, 1968-72; member of the executive committee of the Democratic National Committee, 1969-72; and treasurer of the national committee, 1970-72.

An attorney, he was a founder of the law firm of Akin, Gump, Strauss, Hauer & Feld in Dallas in 1946. After receiving his law degree from UT Austin, he served as special agent of ecture Series

the Federal Bureau of Investigation from 1941 to 1945.

He has served as a director of such companies as Lone Star Industries, Inc., Archer-Daniels-Midland Co., Music Corporation of America, Pepsico, and Xerox.

John Palmer

In his role as broadcast journalist, Palmer often brings the first word of overnight news developments to millions of viewers. Prior to joining Today in 1982, he served as the network's White House Correspondent for three years and became the first broadcast journalist to receive the Merriman Fund Award for Excellence in Presidential News Coverage.

On April 25, 1980 Palmer reported live from the White House that the U.S. mission to rescue the hostages in Iran had been aborted and that eight U.S. soldiers had been killed. It was the first report by any organization of the failed mission and the exclusive broadcast earned him the Merriman award.

The 22-year veteran of NBC News has reported events throughout the world, including Europe and the Middle East. Prior to his White House assignment he was based at the NBC News bureau in Paris and filed stories from Italy, Israel, Iran and other nations on a regular basis. He covered the political crisis in Iran when large-scale rioting forced the Shah to leave the country and obtained an exclusive interview with the Ayatollah Khomeini.

As NBC News correspondent in Israel, 1971-72, Palmer covered all aspects of Middle East developments and narrated a documentary, "John Palmer's Israel." Based in Beirut from 1973-76, he earned an Overseas Press Club Award for the best television interpretation of foreign news and a National Headliners Award for outstanding coverage of Beirut.

He joined NBC News in 1963 after two years as a reporter and anchor for WSB-TV in Atlanta, and from 1963-69 was based at the NBC midwestern bureau in Chicago where he anchored a one-hour daily news program on WMAQ-TV and covered breaking stories for the network.

He transferred to New York in 1969 where he served first as a reporter then as anchor on WNBC-TV. While based in New York he was assigned to cover six space launches from Cape Kennedy and the Manned Spacecraft Center in Houston.

Palmer, who holds a bachelor's degree from Northwestern University and a master's from Columbia University, is a native of Kingsport, Tenn.

The Distinguished Lecture Series is sponsored by Smith County Medical Society Auxiliary. More information about the series is available from the UT Tyler Office of Development, (214) 566-2371. ★

Dr. Henry Kissinger

Robert S. Strauss

John Palmer

Dr. Elizabeth Dunn Educator, author, film critic

Dr. Elizabeth Dunn

Busy is a word that could be used to describe how Dr. Elizabeth Dunn lives her life, but she doesn't seem to mind. "I've always done a lot of different things at once," said Dunn, "and I like my life complicated."

She should know the meaning of living a complicated life. Assistant professor of English, cookbook author, film critic, travel study guide, publisher and mother are all titles Dunn holds.

After receiving her bachelor's degree in English from Stephen F. Austin State University in 1977, Dunn went on to get a master's degree from North Texas State University and a doctorate from the University of North Carolina at Chapel Hill.

She says she enjoyed being a student, and her enthusiasm for her subject is just as evident now that she is teaching. Dunn explained that she tries to model her classes on those she took and enjoyed while she was in college as part of her overall plan to keep the material interesting and to keep students from getting restless.

"I don't like to be bored," says Dunn, so besides basing her classes on her positive course experiences, she tries to constantly interject new things into the courses she teaches. Being excited about the courses she teaches is important to her.

"Students enjoy the class more when I enjoy the class," she explained.

As for her own literary tastes, Dunn enjoys books that come from the American Romantic period. However, James Joyce is her favorite author right now.

"There was a time when I would say Ralph Waldo Emerson was my favorite," said Dunn, "but if I had to take a book on an island I'd pick Joyce because of the complexities in his work."

This lively English professor's interest in educating people does not stop at the classroom. Dunn said she sees an element of education in everything she does.

Her first publishing effort, "Southern Seasons: An Authentic Guide to East Texas Cooking" was an attempt to educate East Texans. "Not only did I want to learn about publishing, I wanted people to see how East Texas was a long time ago," she says.

"I like to see the look on anybody's face when they've been exposed to a new idea."

She, too, gets excited when she stumbles on a new idea. Her role as a film critic came about when she realized that she saw some of the same things in movies as other critics. She thought she could write reviews herself, contacted KTBB radio station, and shortly thereafter began to do movie reviews on the radio.

She is not writing reviews at the present, but found time this summer for another adventure: leading a group of English literature students to England, Wales and Scotland to see the homesites of authors, settings and other places the authors lived.

Dunn described the adventure as a "sort of pilgrimage." She felt that seeing the London Bridge, for example, makes the literature "come alive" for students. It's all part and parcel of her intent to keep literature interesting and meaningful.

In addition to being a world traveler, there are also more scholarly endeavors on the horizon for this active educator. She plans to compile a composition workbook and a handbook for film appreciation classes that contains a combination of film history and film appreciation principles.

"I like to see the look on anybody's face when they've been exposed to a new idea."

"The books I've run across have one or the other," she says, "but not both." Dunn feels both are necessary for film appreciation.

There is one role that Dunn enjoys as much as being a professor, author and tour guide: being a mother. It ranks up there with the rest of her endeavors. She obviously enjoys her son who is now getting old enough for her to do even more. Dunn says that the fact that he is older now "opens up a lot of possibilities."

She knows what her philosophy about life is, and that is to "not be afraid to do anything. The worst that can happen is if you fail, you can learn something."

She keeps reaching higher and higher, and making her life more and more "complicated," but it is not hard to understand why she does this. Explained Dunn, "I like all the things I do." ★

Faculty Profile

Name: Elizabeth Dunn

Occupation: Assistant professor of English

Degrees: Ph.D., University of North Carolina, Chapel Hill
M.A., North Texas State University
B.A., Stephen F. Austin State University

Favorite author: James Joyce

Interests: Teaching, writing, film reviewing, travel

Immediate goal: To complete a composition workbook and handbook for film appreciation classes

Philosophy: Do not be afraid to do anything. The worst that can happen is if you fail, you learn something.

Glenn named Amoco recipient

Amy Glenn, instructor of political science at UT Tyler, has been presented the university's Amoco Foundation/Chancellor's Council Teaching Award for 1986-87.

The award is given annually in recognition of an outstanding faculty member at each of the seven universities within the UT System. Selection was conducted by the UT Tyler Faculty Awards Committee with input from faculty and students.

"By presenting this award to an outstanding teacher we honor students, the product of teaching, as well as those who cultivate that product. It is an extreme pleasure to recognize Amy Glenn, a 1980 graduate of UT Tyler, as recipient of this award for excellence in teaching," said Dr. Thomas L. Fernandez, vice president for academic affairs.

A full-time member of the UT Tyler faculty since 1985, Glenn has taught at Ohio State University at Mansfield and Tyler Junior College, and has conducted research in Central America under a grant from the Tropical Renewable Resources Program of Columbus, Ohio.

Glenn earned a master of arts degree in 1984 from Ohio State, from which she is currently working on a dissertation for a doctorate in public policy and Latin American studies. She earned a bachelor of science degree from UT Tyler in 1980, where she received the Watson W. Wise Incentive Award, and an associates degree from TJC in 1977. She received training in computer programming and recruitment in the U.S. Marine Corps from 1973-76.

Amy Glenn

'One minute manager' highlights series

Ethics, productivity and customer relations are among topics presented by some of today's leading management consultants featured in UT Tyler's Management Speaker Series.

Dr. Ken Blanchard, Dr. Robert L. Lorber and Kenneth B. Johnston, dynamic speakers as well as recognized experts in the management field, have been presented in this year's series.

The series is coordinated by John Childs, UT Tyler instructor of management and marketing, and sponsored by Buford Television, Inc., Mother Frances Hospital, Medical Center Hospital, The Trane Company, and United Telephone Company of Texas, Inc.

Blanchard, whose One Minute Manager Library — which includes "Putting the One Minute Manager to Work," "Leadership and the One Minute Manager" and "The One Minute Manager Gets Fit" — has sold over seven million copies and has been translated into 20 languages, discussed "The Power of Ethical Management" in April.

"Ethics education raises awareness, help people think more imaginatively, guides them to see problems and solutions in ways they haven't before, and helps them in becoming more comfortable with ethical issues in the workplace," Blanchard says.

Ethical decisions start at the top and become a standard for employee behavior all the way down the line — good business ethics are good business, he believes.

When facing a decision involving ethics, Blanchard recommends an "ethics check" — asking "is it legal?", "is it balanced?" and "how will it make you feel about yourself?"

Earlier this spring Lorber, an internationally recognized expert in performance improvement and corporate culture, discussed "Managing by Data for Increased Productivity." In August, Kenneth B. Johnston, chairman and chief executive officer of Kaset, Inc., presented "Service East Texas: How to Provide Extraordinary Service to Your Customers."

Additional speakers in the series are planned for the fall semester. For more information call 566-1471, ext. 222.

Stanley chosen Piper nominee

Dr. Jeanie Stanley, associate professor of political science, has been selected as UT Tyler's nominee for the 1987 Minnie Stevens Piper Foundation Award.

The foundation honors teachers from colleges and universities throughout the state by recognizing outstanding academic achievement and dedication to the teaching profession.

"Dr. Stanley's enthusiasm and dedication to excellence in teaching make her a distinguished contributor to the political science field as well as to the entire teaching profession," said Dr. Thomas L. Fernandez, vice president for academic affairs.

"I teach because I enjoy learning, sharing what I learn and helping others to learn," Stanley said. "Teaching is particularly rewarding when it appears to open doors for students or assist them in achieving their own goals and finding life in some way more meaningful."

Dr. Jeanie Stanley

Stanley earned doctoral and master of arts degrees from UT Austin and has done additional study at the University of Virginia, the University of Alaska and the University of Illinois. Prior to joining the UT Tyler faculty in 1980, she was an instructor in government at Kilgore College and education director for the U.S. Army Civil Service at Fort Greeley, Alaska, and studied at the Allahabad University in India under a Fulbright grant.

faculty focus...

Linda Campbell, assistant professor of nursing, presented "Hopelessness and Uncertainty as Predictors of Psychosocial Adjustment" at the 2nd Annual Texas Women Scholars Symposium: A Contemporary Perspective in Austin.

Dr. Patricia A. Gajda, professor of history, wrote the first history of the new diocese in Tyler, dating to 1690, which was published in a special supplement to the "Texas Catholic," the weekly newspaper of the Diocese of Dallas, Feb. 20.

Dr. Robert Geffner, associate professor of psychology, presented a paper, "Projective Assessment of Children and Adolescents in Schools," at the National Association of School Psychologists annual convention in New Orleans.

Dr. Brenda Gilliam, assistant professor of special education, presented "Technological Innovations for the Handicapped" at the Multi-State Technology Conference in Austin co-sponsored by Texas Education Agency and the South Atlantic Regional Resource Center.

Dr. Tommy Gilbreath, associate professor of technology, has been elected chairman of the Austin zone of the Society of Manufacturing Engineers. The 2800-member organization encompasses Texas and northwest Louisiana and trains officers of the zone's 25 chapters.

Dr. John Hoover, assistant professor of special services, has had an article, "Preparing Regular Educators for Education of the Handicapped: An Emphasis Upon Knowledge, Attitudes and Skills," published in "Educational Research Quarterly," a University of Southern California journal.

Dr. George Joyce, professor of business administration, participated in two sessions at the Southwestern Marketing Association meeting in Houston. He also chaired a session on venture capital and cost transaction analysis for the Southwestern Small Business Institute Association.

Dr. Mark Lewis, associate professor of education, presented a paper, "Making Motivation Theory Work for You in the Language Arts Classroom," at the Texas Joint Council of Teachers of English Annual Conference in Corpus Christi.

Dr. Donald L. McClaugherty, professor and chairman of UT Tyler's Department of Chemistry, has been recognized for outstanding contributions to the Texas Association of Advisors for the Health Professions (TAAHP) at the organization's annual meeting held recently at Baylor College of Medicine in Houston. McClaugherty, who served as president of the organization for 1986-87, is the first person from a component of the UT System to serve in that capacity.

James Pace, assistant professor of art, has been selected to exhibit works in the Clemson National Print and Drawing Exhibition organized by Clemson University.

And now... Veterinary Medicine

Although Cindy Denney only has one course to finish to get her master's degree in interdisciplinary studies (with chemistry, biology and computer science as her fields of study), her life as a student is just beginning. She was recently accepted to veterinary school, and life has never looked brighter.

On Aug. 28, Denney began her studies at Texas A&M University's College of Veterinary Medicine, a college at the university that she says accepts only 120 students at a time. That Denney would choose to be a veterinarian is not surprising, since she graduated from the University of Missouri with a B.S. in wildlife and was later employed by the St. Louis Zoo as an instructor in the public education department. She said she has "always been interested in the field."

Denney also worked at Tyler's Caldwell Zoo as the curator of education, a job which led to her interest in basic animal research and ultimately to UT Tyler to get her master's degree.

Her research project for her degree is in the area of reproductive physiology — an area of research which has important medical, agricultural and conservation implications. It is not hard to understand that Denney's favorite subjects are immunology, physiology and biochemistry.

"People are just now accepting women in professional fields and I feel like I really have to do well."

Denney is also the recipient of the 1987 Scott Scholarship, a $1,000 award given by the Tyler chapter of American Association of University Women, which she will use to help finance her veterinary studies. She has been a member of the AAUW for three years, and says she "has a sense of responsibility."

"People are just now accepting women in professional fields and I feel like I really have to do well," Denney says.

She also holds memberships in the National Science Teacher's Association, American Association of Zoological Parks and Aquariums, International Zoo Educators, Texas Zoo Educators and UT Tyler's Tri Beta biology service organization.

But if that is not enough, Denney holds an impressive 4.0 grade point average, and maintains an active family life with husband Jim and their one-year old daughter, Megan. She says her husband is very supportive, but concedes that it is hard for spouses of doctors since so much time is involved in pursuing a medical profession.

"I have a lot of respect for animals, but really working with people is important, too."

As for future plans, Denney is looking at several options. After her four years of schooling are finished, she says she may start a small or mixed animal practice. She adds that she "may try for a residency first" since she is "so new at it."

Another possibility, she says, is working in oncology, an area which zeros in on cancer and its effects.

Denney says being a veterinarian is not all love of animals. She feels that dealing with people is a big part of the practice of taking care of animals. According to Denney, the pet is not likely to be helped if the owner does not like the doctor.

"I have a lot of respect for animals," says Denney, "but really working with people is important, too."

This energetic student-wife-mother has been an employee of the UT Health Center at Tyler in the microbiology-immunology departments. She has worked in tissue culture where the research project involved injecting cells with the Epstein-Barr virus which is associated with chicken pox.

Even though Denney has a lot of demands on her time, she manages to find time for hobbies. She and her husband own a sailboat and they sail when they can. Denney also cites Megan as a "full-time endeavor," and says she likes to do "craft-type stuff" as well.

At 30 years old, Denney already has lived a busy life, and it does not look like it will slow down in the near future. "I don't know what makes me strive for more," says Denney, but she obviously enjoys the challenge.

She also feels that UT Tyler prepares students well for the challenges of life. Jokes Denney, "I think in the end, we learned how to study and study fast!" ★

Cindy Denney

Profile

Name:	Cindy Denney
Occupation:	Graduate student, researcher
Degrees:	B.S., University of Missouri
Major at UT Tyler:	Interdisciplinary studies (chemistry, biology and computer science)
Immediate goals:	To earn master's degree and complete veterinary school
Interests:	Animal research, sailboating, crafts
Honors:	AAUW scholarship recipient, 4.0 grade point average.

1987 Spring Graduates

"Each and every one of you owes an obligation to join in the solutions to the political and social problems that face your country in the 1980's and beyond," Rudolph Giuliani, U.S. attorney for the southern district of New York, said in his address to 312 UT Tyler degree candidates — 261 at the bachelor's level and 51 at the master's level — at spring commencement May 8.

"Your years at The University of Texas at Tyler have given you skills; you must use those skills to contribute greatly," Giuliani, who has received national recognition for his efforts in prosecuting cases involving New York mafia families, stated. "The world is before you not to conquer but to improve."

UT Tyler master's degree candidates are listed by hometown, degree and major:

ATHENS - Mary Ann Walker Hunter, M.A., interdisciplinary studies; Brenda S. Davis Garrard, Ruth Darlene Quattlebaum Jones and Diana Dunnington Vaughn, M.Ed., curriculum and instruction; and Starla Edwards Ingram, M.Ed., early childhood education.

BROWNSBORO - Sherri Kay Vest Chambers, M.Ed., reading.

BULLARD - Lonzo Jerome Grubbs, M.S., technology.

CENTER - Mychele Herring Hughes, M.S., public planning and administration.

FARMER'S BRANCH - Laura Diane Enlow, M.B.A.

GILMER - David Keith Duffey, M.A., professional counseling; and Lea Ann Brewer Williams, M.Ed., early childhood education.

HOLLIDAY - Mindy Lu Vujovich, M.S., psychology.

HOUSTON - Jin-Sui Tseng, M.S., computer science.

JACKSONVILLE - Allyce Kuykendall Dolan, M.B.A.

KILGORE - Carolyn Witt Martin, M.Ed., curriculum and instruction.

LINDALE - Charles Ray Arnold II, M.Ed., curriculum and instruction.

LONGVIEW - Vi E. Stahlecker, M.S., interdisciplinary studies; William E. Davis, M.B.A.;

LUBBOCK - Michael W. Burk, M.S., technology.

MALAKOFF - Sybil Louise Norris, M.Ed., curriculum and instruction.

PALESTINE - Kendall Ray Eiben, M.B.A., and Jay Frank Patzke, M.S., public planning and administration.

Rudolph Giuliani

PORT ARTHUR - Larry J. Turpin, M.B.A.

SEAGOVILLE - Karen Sue Powell, M.S., computer science.

TERRELL - Joanie Weekly Smith, M.Ed., early childhood education.

TYLER - Marilyn Ann Coler, Lenora Kay Marsh-Davis and Fernadine Neville Luker, M.A., interdisciplinary studies; William T. Clarke, Anthony Wayne Criswell, Ronald Morton Serber and John K. Wollitz, M.B.A.; Debra Nannette Andrews Anderson, Walter Leroy Arnold Jr. and Janet LaKeya Jones Seastrunk, M.Ed., curriculum and instruction; Karen Ann Hoppe Hindsley and Brenda LaJoy Sharbann, M.Ed., early childhood education; Rose Mary Rogers, M.Ed., reading; Karen Marie Calme, M.S., psychology; Donald Wayne Houston, M.S., technology; Jon Eric Horton, M.S., public planning and administration; and Curtis Allen Peterson and Jack A. Stone, M.S., computer science.

WACO - Robert D. Travis, M.B.A.

DEARBORN, MICH. - Carole Kronenberg, M.S., public planning and administration.

WYTHEVILLE, VA. - James Noah Greear IV, M.Ed., special education.

Bachelor's degree candidates are listed by hometown, degree and major:

ALVIN - Kyle Ben Hargrove, B.S., journalism.

ARP - Cheryl Marie Green, B.B.A., general business.

ATHENS - Shanley Elizabeth Kerls, B.S., elementary education; C. Helen Robertson, B.S., journalism; and Holly Haning, B.S., biology.

AUSTIN - Janice Inell Lambert, B.B.A., accounting.

BEAUMONT - Janice Staton Blakey; B.B.A., accounting.

BECKVILLE - Charles Dwayne Ferguson and Kelly Lynn Edmonds Langley, B.B.A., management; and Curtis Lynn Wiggins, B.S., computer science.

BEN WHEELER - Franklin W. English, B.S., criminal justice.

BIG SANDY - Kathryn Ann Persinger, B.A., psychology.

BROWNSBORO - Vicki Kay Kirkpatrick and Brenda Gail Meyer, B.S., elementary education; and Donna Janine Roberts, B.S.N.

CANTON - Vickie Mayberry, B.S., computer science.

CARTHAGE - Clifford M. Bounds and Tammi L. Moore, B.B.A., marketing.

CAYUGA - Kelly Doyle Trammell, B.A., psychology.

CHANDLER - Sandra Yvonne Payne, B.B.A., marketing; and Pauline Crawford, B.S., computer science.

CHAPEL HILL - Linda Diane Jackson Haben, B.S., computer science.

CONROE - Shannon Lynn Secrest, B.A., special education.

CORSICANA - Gwendolyn Sue Forstmann, B.S., elementary education.

CORPUS CHRISTI - Melissa Miller Lowman, B.S., elementary education; and Martha Kelly, B.S., political science.

CROSS ROADS - Bill D. Casey, B.B.A., management.

DALLAS - Vicki Diane Hefner, B.B.A., accounting.

DUMAS - Stacy Clark Ramsay, B.S., mathematics/computer science.

EASTON - Carlton Lewis Burton, B.S., computer science.

EDGEWOOD - Betty J. DeRoche, B.S., sociology.

FLINT - Lowell Donald Brown II, B.S., technology; and James Bethke, B.S., political science.

FRANKSTON - Thelma Diane Harris Beard and Bernice Free Pinson, B.S., elementary education; and Peggy Lynn Smith, B.F.A., music.

FORT WORTH - Pamela Hamrick Dugan, B.S., computer science/mathematics.

GARLAND - Peter K. Nance, B.S., mathematics.

GARY - Stacie Helen Yarbrough, B.S., elementary education.

GILMER - Barbara Gorzell, B.A., psychology; Carol McCarter, B.S., elementary education; and Samantha Lynn Davis, B.S.N.

GLADEWATER - Penny Elizabeth Jordan, B.S., mathematics.

GRAPELAND - Annette Jo Gaines, B.S.N.

GROVES - Loretta Dianne Meredith, B.S., elementary education.

HALLSVILLE - Bryan Kelly Lunsford, B.S., chemistry.

HAMILTON - Melinda L. Smith, B.S., elementary education.

HARLETON - Cathy Geneen Zimmers, B.S., computer science.

HAWKINS - Rodney Alan Reece, B.B.A., marketing.

HENDERSON - Lezlie Wentworth Hall, B.B.A., accounting.

HUNTSVILLE - Carla Smith, B.S.N.

HURST - Kimberly Ann Parkey, B.B.A., marketing.

JACKSONVILLE - Emily Priest Beall and Suzanne Starkey Bolton, B.B.A., accounting; Sonja Monique Johnson, B.S., health professions; Lezley DeLane Collier Lewis, B.A., sociology/Spanish; Andre

Kriel, B.F.A., art; Joan Halbert and Marilyn Katrina Orr, B.F.A., music; Celissa Glass Clakley, B.S., criminal justice; Matthew Arlyn Vierkant, B.S., biology; and Linda Gaido Roper, B.S.N.

JEFFERSON - Edward Alan Turner, B.B.A., marketing; and Marlon Kraig Tyler, B.S., technology.

KAUFMAN - Robin Denise Miley, B.B.A., management; and Kerrie Riggs, B.S.N.

KEMP - Deneise Lynn Laywell, B.S., elementary education.

KILGORE - Kellie Anne Elder Blakely, B.B.A., accounting; Niki S. Holmes, B.B.A., management; Joseph M. Lamb, B.B.A., general business; Leasa NaNelle Primo, marketing; Savannah Faye Armstrong and Elizabeth Kay Killingsworth, B.S., political science; Cecilio Sanders, B.S., sociology; and Kenneth Brian Weaver, B.S., mathematics.

LAMPASAS - C. Milton Crawford III, B.A., psychology.

LARUE - Rebecca Lynn Dickson, B.S., elementary education.

LINDALE - Danny Gail Lewis, B.S., computer science; and Tammy Jo Worley, B.S., sociology.

LONE STAR - Cherry Truitt Stoermer, B.S.N.

LONGVIEW - Robert John Baker and Rachel Read Florey, B.B.A., marketing; Patricia Ann Fulmer, L. Nelson Mower Jr. and Marilyn Sue Melton Rathbun, B.B.A., accounting; John B. Kendrick and Jacqueline Sharp, B.B.A., general business; Lisa Kay King, B.S., elementary education; Ginger Jean Lingo, B.S., secondary education; Karen Collins Grissom and Dena Susan Kendrick, B.A., English; Betty Gail Berlin McCain, B.F.A., music; Mark Whitfield Ganong, B.S., criminal justice; Janice Ogilvie Hamstreet, B.S., history; Sherry Gaye Bennett, Sheri Rae Roberts, Brad Lee Webb and William Clayton Whatley, B.S., computer science; Sandra Bradley and Carolyn Anne Hickman, B.S., mathematics; Landry Johnson Jr., B.S., chemistry; Bobbie Joyce Allison, Sara C. Cariker, and Kathy Lewis Peyton, B.S.N.

LUFKIN - Denise Pirtle Scarlett, B.S., elementary education.

MINEOLA - Robin Loraine Blaylock, B.S., secondary education.

MOUNT PLEASANT - Annette Elizabeth Kenney, B.S., elementary education.

MOUNT VERNON - Terri Ann Jordan, B.S., elementary education.

NECHES - Cara Denise Marta Cooke, B.S., elementary education; and Bonnie Jean Conley, B.S., computer science.

NEW BOSTON - Susan E. McGee, B.A., English.

NEWTON - Tammy Lee Adams, B.B.A., marketing.

ORANGE - Laurie Jean Walter, B.S., psychology.

PALESTINE - Val Watson Bass, B.A., psychology; Lori C. Fisher Hayes and Tana Kay Herring, B.S., elementary education; Fay Kathleen Vernon Trevino, B.A., English; Alton Dale Caskey and Daniel Robert Scarbrough, B.S., criminal justice; and Mary Kathleen Walling, B.S., psychology.

PARIS - Ginger Gail Ballard, B.S., computer science.

PITTSBURG - Sheryl Ann Baxter, B.S., mathematics; and Jerry Andrew Baxter, B.S., technology.

PRICE - Carrie Ann Desjarlais, B.S., criminal justice.

QUINLAN - Debbie Steger Plato, B.S., secondary education.

QUITMAN - Suzanne Dawson, B.S.N.

RUSK - Glenda Mayes Smith, B.B.A., management.

SAN ANTONIO - Thomas Lee Fierros, B.S., computer science.

SCURRY - Tina Loretta Hilton, B.S., elementary education.

SULPHUR SPRINGS - Terri Elaine Burney, B.S., political science; and Vicki Vaden Nugent, B.S., criminal justice.

TATUM - Melissa Anyse Dickson, B.S., computer science.

TYLER - Anthony Eugene Bell, B.B.A., general business; Jimmy Lee Bodenhammer and Kelly Marsden Sanders, B.B.A., marketing; Diane S. Brown, Barbara Ann S. Carter, C. Vernon Crisley, John Stewart Dike, Tal O'Brien Glenn, Michael Keith Weitzmann, David L. Whatley, Charlene Phillips Williams, and William Rodney Woody, B.B.A., accounting; Kathryn D. Collie Diduch, Dean Alan Dresser, Christopher Sharkey and Michael J. Williams, B.B.A., finance; Terry Kenneth Hawkins, Wendell Dean Hewett and Laurie Dean Maddox, B.B.A., management; Tammy Lou Hatton, Charlotte Kay Yancy Kendrick, Laura C. Smiley and Christy Meloy Triggs, B.A., psychology; Craig William Alden, John Lock Hitzfield, Jr. and Robert Allen Vigoren, B.S., technology; Christel Teresa Erickson, B.S., physical education; Janis Yeargan Sandess, B.S., psychology; Amanda Kay Johnson and Deborah Kay Stovall Palmer, B.S., early childhood education; Sharon Kay Attaway, Charlotte Inez Cothren, Janet Lee Hughes, Martha Sue Looney, Michelle McKinney, Sara Colleen Moore, Suzanne Long Oden, Suzanne Jayne Stroud Sanson and Brenda B. Singer, B.S., elementary education; Tracy S. Figueira and Brenda Elaine Scruggs, B.A., history; Christopher Mark Lanier, B.A., English; H. Carl Trimble III, B.F.A., art; Mary Claire Cunningham and Suzette Selvidge, B.G.S., Kimberly Thompson Braly, Louis Eugene Chaump Jr., and Teresa Darlene Whitehead, B.S., speech; Calvin Nelson Clyde IV., B.S., political science; Carolyn Marie Davis, B.S., history; Susan Diane Dickerson, B.S., journalism; James Albert Jinks, B.S., criminal justice; Richard W. St. Coeur, B.S., chemistry; Cynthia Cook, Charlotte Maranea Eneude, Jeffrey Scott Perkins, Charles Robert Johnson and Theresa Ann Philips, B.S., computer science; and Shana Brown, Danny Lance Hales, Koatney Haygood, Fersonda Steel Hussain, Linda F. Isabell, Connie L. Kelly, Kathleen Anne Manion, Dorothy Jo McGowan, Glenda Mitchum, Christine Evelyn Morawski, Janet Rose Peyton, Shawn Lorane Smith, Michael D. Stephens, Lana Marie Vulpo and Helen B. Wagner, B.S.N.

VAN - Sheila Diane Lynch McCawley, B.B.A., accounting; Rhea Lene Nations, B.S., secondary education; and Jeanette Marie Kress, B.S., journalism.

WACO - Kris Ann Skrabanek, B.S., health professions.

WASKOM - Jean E. Bayless, B.S., computer science.

WHITEHOUSE - Jena Ann Young, B.B.A., marketing; Sherri Lynn Cooper and Angela Howard Tucker, B.S., elementary education; Larry Lee Roberts, B.S., criminal justice; and Billy Scott Garner, B.S., computer science.

WHITE OAK - Robert Mitchell Salter, B.S., technology; Jay Lee Hatton, B.S., computer science; and Sharon Jones and Lynn Harrington Stanley, B.S.N.

WINNSBORO - Rita Jane Campbell Gray, B.S., sociology; Melani Hopson Bain, B.S., speech; Elizabeth Kay Murley Parrish, B.S., mathematics; and Laura Murley Morrison, B.S.N.

WINONA - Linda V. Espinor, B.B.A., accounting; Staci Louise Wyman, B.S., physical education; and Marilyn Ford, B.S.N.

ROGERS, ARK. - Dwayne Lee Covey, B.B.A., management.

RICHMOND, CALIF. - Charita A. Patterson, B.B.A., management.

SAVANNAH, GA. - Jacquelyn Mercedes McElroy, B.F.A., art.

JACKSONVILLE, FLA. - Lona Kennedy, B.A., journalism.

WICHITA, KAN. - Douglas Scott Moreland, B.S., computer science.

LAKE PROVIDENCE, LA. - Barbara Sue Bishop Dupree, B.S., elementary education.

MONROE, LA. - Debbie Rene Huffman, B.B.A., marketing.

LITTLE FALLS, MINN. - Mary Beth Eckman Sowders, B.S., mathematics.

JACKSON, MISS. - Dennis Wilson, B.S.N.

HOBBS, N.M. - Barbara Steinert, B.S., computer science.

NEW YORK, N.Y. - Miriam J. Gonzalez, B.B.A., Spanish.

OKLAHOMA CITY, OKLA. - Betty S. Helt, B.S., journalism.

SHAWNEE, OKLA. - Walter Leon Wagon Jr., B.B.A., general business.

LANCASTER, PA. - William Paul Jenkins, B.S., computer science.

PITTSBURG, PA. - James B. Turnbull, B.S., computer science.

WAUKESHA, WIS. - Angela Nadine Worgull, B.B.A., accounting.

BRISBANE, AUSTRALIA - Daniel Henry Hovey, B.B.A., management.

JOAO PESSOA-PB, BRAZIL - Ana Elizabeth Gadelha Chaves, B.A.A.S.

HONG KONG, CHINA - Siu-Ying But, B.S.N.

PARIS, FRANCE - Sylvie Bailo, B.S., computer science.

KUWAIT - Khaled Ibrahim, B.S., computer science.

KIRCHDORF, SWITZERLAND - Stefan Kreuger, B.S., biology.

SUBOTICA, YUGOSLAVIA - Aleksander Kukaras, B.S., computer science.

1986 Fall Graduates

UT Tyler recognized 293 degree candidates — 236 at the bachelor's level and 57 at the master's level — during fall commencement Dec. 5.

President George F. Hamm gave the commencement address and conferred degrees.

UT Tyler master's degree candidates are listed by hometown, degree and major:

CARTHAGE - Mildred Williamson Kyle, M.A., early childhood education.

CHANDLER - Jeanie Martin-Griffin, M.A., history.

FRANKSTON - Margaret L. Farley, M.S., interdisciplinary studies.

HAWKINS - Dan J. Wise, M.S., technology.

HENDERSON - Melanie Ann Schauwecker, M.Ed., curriculum and instruction.

JACKSONVILLE - Geraldine Alice Draper, M.A., English.

LINDALE - Gary D. Allen, M.S., public planning and administration.

LONGVIEW - Janel Baysek Garner and Lynn Joyce Wilson, M.Ed., curriculum and instruction; Cheyenne Smith, M.S., psychology; and Linda I. Jarvis, M.A., English.

MURCHISON - Gayle Hudson Haynes, M.S., psychology.

PALESTINE - Harold Wayne Walling, M.A., interdisciplinary studies; Brenda Bettis Amick, M.Ed., reading.

RUSK - Charles M. Briley, M.S., kinesiology.

SPRING - Kimberly Anne Langston, M.Ed., special education.

TEMPLE - Margie Cargill Johnson, M.S., interdisciplinary studies.

TEXARKANA - Edward C. Johnson, M.Ed., technology.

TYLER - Patricia Pearce Grelling and Marsha Jo Nangle, M.A., interdisciplinary studies; Jeff Carroll Caid, William Richard Crowe and Scott H. Walker, M.B.A.; Martha Anne Roane Bielamowicz; Pamela Kay Braswell and Cynthia Cagle Gaddis, M.Ed., curriculum and instruction; Zeb Cantley, M.Ed., educational administration; Doris Martin Cook, early childhood education; Dana Ann Morris, Mae Bernice Tapp, Joyce Carolyn Westbrook reading; Jeanne Elisabeth Baxter Ivy, psychology; M.S., clinical exercise physiology; Rosalis V. Montgomery and Curtis Archie Pendergraft, M.A., public planning and administration.

VAN - Helin E. Colvin, M.Ed., reading.

WINONA - Randall Lee McMillan, M.Ed., educational administration.

PUTNUM, CONN - Elwood Byron Stetson, M.A., psychology.

ST. PAUL, MINN - Gretchen S. Schaberg, M.S., clinical exercise physiology.

RIVER VALE, NJ - Marc Paul Levesque, M.S., kinesiology.

KOWLOON, HONG KONG - Fukkwok Daniel Ho, M.S., computer science.

IMO STATE, NIGERIA - Christiana Chinenye Osuagwu, M.S., public planning and administration.

OWERRI, IMO STATE, NIGERIA - Ambrose Ugochukwu Nzeakor, M.S., public planning and administration.

Bachelor's degree candidates are listed by hometown, degree and major:

AMARILLO - Ricci Reene Wise, B.S.Ed., early childhood education.

ARP - Lori Hardy, B.S., elementary education; and John Steven Reel, B.S., computer science.

ATHENS - Dawn E. Yancey, B.B.A., general business; John Otis Harrington, B.S., technology; Staci Leigh Sparks and Ginger Carlene Holiman, B.S., elementary education; and Nancy L. Tharp, B.S., computer science.

BAYTOWN - Tawnya Mitchell, B.S., elementary education.

BULLARD - Larry G. Clyburn, B.A., psychology; Billy Michael Dunklin, B.S., history; and Carla J. Thiel, B.A., English.

CARTHAGE - Patti Lynn Rakestraw, B.S., elementary education; and Julia Ann Townley, B.S.N., nursing.

CONROE - Carrie Rebecca Adams and Amy Beth Christian, B.S.N., nursing.

CORSICANA - Roxanne Kelley Waterman, B.B.A., general business, and Lisa Donaho Watts, B.A., English.

DAINGERFIELD - Richard Allen Smith, B.S., technology.

DAISETTA - Ida L. Hiroms, B.B.A., accounting.

DALLAS - Michael L. Rickey, B.A., psychology; Phyllis Daniel Aldridge, B.S.Ed., special education; and Mary-Ellen Smith, B.S.N., nursing.

EL PASO - Nancy Jean Haupt, B.B.A., management.

FLINT - Teresa J. Campbell, B.B.A., general business; Staci Atwood Scott, B.F.A., art; and Tonya Williams, B.S.N., nursing.

FORNEY - Delna Jean Ivie, B.S., computer science.

FRANKSTON - Stephanie L. Fowler, B.S., elementary education; Tammy Y. Smith, B.S.N., nursing.

FRUITVALE - Diana Dawn Haptonstall, B.A., English.

GILMER - Alison M. Butler and Stacia Jo Dugger, B.S., elementary education; Karen Jay Johns, B.A., English; Marion Jefferson Deason Jr., B.S.N., nursing; and Deborah E. Trotter, B.B.A., marketing.

GLADEWATER - Kenna Laura Kerns, B.A., political science.

GOLDEN - Cynthia K. Strickland, B.B.A., general business; and Annie Laurie Strickland, B.A., English.

GRAND SALINE - Noma Jo Means, B.S., secondary education; Barbara F. Fisher, B.A., history; and Daniel Wynn Martin, B.S., history.

GREENVILLE - Lisa Marie Berry, B.S.N., nursing.

HARLETON - Linda Darlene Ferguson, B.S., elementary education.

HENDERSON - Steve Martin Vaughn, B.S., computer science; John R. Wofford, B.B.A., marketing; Zandra F. Peters, B.A., psychology; and Doris Jane Sullivan, B.S.N., nursing.

HOOKS - William O'Donnell, B.S., computer science.

HOUSTON - Derek R. Fisher, B.G.S.; and Rebecca Sue Key, B.S., journalism.

JACKSONVILLE - Lisa Broadway Finch, B.B.A., general business; D. Dianne Higgonbotham and Mark G. Taylor, B.B.A., finance; Jerry Edwin Boswell, B.S., technology; Teresa Belinda Cooper Hughes, B.S.Ed., early childhood education; Earline Frances Dacus, B.F.A., art; Thomas Michael Breen, B.S., computer science; and Deborah Lou Taylor Melvin, B.S., mathematics.

KEMP - James Thomas Allen, B.S., sociology.

KILGORE - Linda Angelina West LaFleur and Elizabeth Jan Philpott, B.S.Ed., early childhood education; Kathryn W. Letsinger and Irva Joy Swetnam, B.S., elementary education; Debra Elizabeth Gandy, B.S., criminal justice/sociology; Layneigha Holland, B.S., criminal justice; and Sarah Jille Crow, B.S., computer science.

KNOX CITY - Carmen Marie James, B.S.N., nursing.

LAREDO - Julian Juarez III, B.S., computer science.

LINDALE - John Kirk Orbaugh, B.B.A., management; Robert Harrell Johnson, B.A., psychology; Kelly Lorene Ohlhausen, B.S., computer science; and Sheila Roberts Germany, B.S., elementary education.

LINDEN - Bryan Sloan Penny, B.B.A., finance.

LONGVIEW - Bettina R. Adkinson, Cynthia A. Beasley, Gerald G. Burks, Susan Kay Cramer, Joyce Laverne Davis, Poozhikalail J. George, Norman Lewis Green Jr., Mary Ann Nichols and Kelly M. Williamson, B.B.A., accounting; Joana Sharp Adams, B.B.A., finance; Chris Eugene White, B.A.A.S.; Judith Denise Sutherland Bryan, B.A., special education; Warren Layne Wickersham, B.S., technology; Melissa Gill, Amy G. Lee, Susan Wine Ramey and Tammy Minter Smith, B.S., elementary education; Laura Elizabeth McCarter, B.S.Ed., secondary education; Ellen Kay Chandler, B.F.A., art; Michael Keith Dooley, Susan Wilson Ramsey and Larry Ray Smith, B.S., criminal justice; Gloria Jean Brown, Robert J. Freyder, Nancy Rebecca Ray and Kim Elaine Ward, B.S., computer science; and Michael Lee O'Bleness, B.S.N., nursing.

MABANK - Donna Ann Correa, B.S., elementary education.

MALAKOFF - Pamela Dawn Glover, B.S., elementary education.

MARSHALL - Mary DeeAnn Martin, B.B.A., accounting; Thomas L. Doss and Bart Alan Howlett, B.S., technology; and Jeffrey Todd Barrett, B.S., computer science.

MINEOLA - Gayna Lea Christian, B.S., elementary education.

NEDERLAND - Suzanne Goeth McMillan, B.S., biology.

OVERTON - Rickey L. Hammontree, B.S., secondary education.

PALESTINE - Tracey Wayne Denson and Philip E. Johnson, B.S., technology; Toni Renee Handorf and Marion Barron Thornton, B.S., elementary education; Mirilyn Ruth Allen, B.S., history; Therese L. Elrod, B.S.N., nursing.

PARIS - Laura Endsley and Deborah Jean Spradling Essary, B.S.N., nursing.

POYNER - Patty Kay Holcomb Mascorro, B.S.Ed., early childhood education.

QUITMAN - Deana Renae Horner, B.S., physical education.

RUSK - Donna Yvette Christopher, B.S., elementary education; Mildred Nell Goins, B.S., criminal justice.

SAN ANTONIO - Wael Deeb, B.S., technology.

SELMAN CITY - Paula Gwyn Besson, B.S., elementary education.

TEXAS CITY - Elizabeth Ann Edwards, B.S., computer science.

TROUP - Sherry Pool Shamburger, B.B.A., accounting; Susie L. Bray, B.S., technology; Velma Lorraine Monday, B.S., elementary; and Shelly Yvonne Harley, B.S.N., nursing.

TYLER - Renee R. Bowie, Vernon Ray Caddell, Lynn Marie Holman Green, Karen D. Hackler and Angela Lynne Loving, B.B.A., accounting; Keith Alan Dickerson and Jacqueline Mitchell Suell, general business; Dale Allen Campbell, Sherri Anne Davidson, Margaret L. Hood Debenport, Carl Brett Finley, Patricia Diane Ford, Mark Leland Gregory, Elizabeth Kay Monigold, John W. Tesseyman III and Wendy A. Wood, B.B.A., management; Connie Rena Vandergriff, B.A.A.S.; William Terrell Bedinger, B.A., psychology; Michael De-wayne Beck, Jerry Glenn Burgess, Roy Baber Carter, Jr., B.S., technology; Paul

Carpenter, B.S., kinesiology; Peggy Ann Ashley, B.S.Ed., special education; Karen Smith Kerr, Karen Annette Mills, Catherine Elaine Mitchell B.S. Ed., early childhood education; Christina Louise Myers, Beth Ann Perry, Carolyn Joyce Ratcliff, Beverly Ann Ray, Robin Renee Stewart and Ronald J. Wright Jr., B.S., elementary education; Linda Kay Morris, B.S., secondary education; Lucy Nichols and Michael Kevin Whitworth, B.A., political science; Steven Russell Hidalgo and Betty Lane Peveto, B.F.A., art; Roxanne Ewing and Dale Ann Griffin, B.S., criminal justice; Loren David Henderson, Laura Elizabeth Peycke and Linda Kay Bland Sandefer, B.S., journalism; Brenda S. Ray, B.S., sociology; Janice Lynn Thompson, Bruce W. Valle and Patrick Whitham, B.S., history; Karen Cinelli DeSplinter, Brian Austin Edwards, Louis A. Escolas Jr., Darrell K. Hammack, James M. Jeffrey, Mark Benjamin Laminack, Victor Andre Martinez, Kasey Champion Rodgers, Robert Rogers, Dana Gay Reed Sudduth and Joseph Waihung Wong, B.S., computer science; Debra Lancaster Holland, Patusa Yarbrough Mayfield and Marvin Loi Thomas, B.S., biology.

VAN - Lyndon S. Shook, B.B.S., accounting; Lisa Wynette Payne, B.S., elementary education; and J. Berniece McCawley, B.S.Ed., special education.

WHITEHOUSE - Anita Ludnig Warren, B.S., health professions; Tina Renee Attaway and Mary Alta Gist Stokes, B.S., elementary education; and Mary Shannon

Webb Rocha, B.S., criminal justice.

WHITE OAK - S. Kent Barnhill, B.B.A., marketing.

WINNSBORO - Diane S. Keeling, B.B.A., accounting; and Russann Walters Dean, B.S.N., nursing.

YANTIS - Bobbie Harrison Lovelady, B.B.A., accounting.

FORT SMITH, ARK - Roy Fitzwater, B.S., technology.

LOS ANGELES, CALIF - Mark Richard Salmi, B.S., computer science.

COLORADO, CO - Alan Keith Brakefield, B.S., computer science.

ELWOOD, IND - Sharon Sue Bolton, B.A., special education.

PAINTSVILLE, KY - Jeffrey Scott Lewis, B.A.A.S.

MONROE, LA - Shaundra D. Rushing, B.B.A., accounting.

SHREVEPORT, LA - Linda Lee Scogin, B.S., elementary education.

BALTIMORE, MD - Elizabeth Teresa Stovall, B.S., sociology.

SAGINAW, MICH - Thomas C. Deal, B.S., criminal justice.

ROSWELL, NEW MEX - Sandra Platt Sulfstede, B.S., history.

NEW YORK, NY - Gregory Lulkoski, B.S., sociology.

ENID, OKLA - Robert W. Billings, B.B.A., accounting.

QATAR-DOHA, ARABIAN GULF - A-Reda N. Abdulla, B.S., technology.

TEHRAN, IRAN - Parvin Wassei Heiratudust, B.S.N., nursing.

ZARKA, JORDAN - Aref Mahmoud Khatib, B.S., computer science.

PTK bestows UT Tyler three awards

Three awards for significant achievement, including one to President George F. Hamm, have been presented to UT Tyler by Phi Theta Kappa (PTK) national honor society.

Hamm was inducted into the PTK Hall of Honor, an award presented to members, advisors, alumni and university presidents who have exhibited the highest degree of excellence in their service to the fraternity.

Martha Wheat, UT Tyler director of admissions, was named Most Distinguished University Alumni Chapter Advisor in recognition of outstanding support in facilitating the transition of PTK scholars to the university environment.

The UT Tyler PTK chapter was given the Award of Excellence for exemplary contribution to the overall excellence and standards of PTK.

The awards were presented at PTK's 69th Annual Awards Banquet held recently at the Hyatt Regency in Dallas.

Martha Wheat

'Who's Who' students announced

Forty-one students at UT Tyler, including 21 Tyler residents, have been selected for inclusion in the 1987 edition of "Who's Who Among Students in American Universities and Colleges."

Students are chosen for their academic achievement, service to the community, leadership ability and potential for continued success. They are part of an elite group selected from more than 1400 institutions of higher learning in all 50 states, the District of Columbia and several foreign nations. Outstanding students have been honored in the annual directory since it was first published in 1934.

Tyler residents and their majors are: Per-Ola Andersson, accounting; Terri Elaine Burney, Rick Elvis Chaffin and Welford Randall Hutton, political science; Ginger Gail Ballard and Melissa Anyse Dickson, computer science; Susan M. Crenshaw, history; Janice L. Daniel, biology; Susan Diane Dickerson, Betty S. Helt, Lona G. Kennedy and Carla Inez Radcliffe, journalism.

Also, Jay Lee Hatton, mathematics; Edward C. Johnson, industrial education; Michael Craig Lollar and Ronald J. Wright, elementary education; Christopher Sharkey and Michael Kevin Whitworth, finance; Laura C. Smiley, psychology; Jan Elizabeth West, secondary education; and Barbara Anne Wyatt, applied arts and sciences.

Area residents, their majors and hometowns are: John Stevens Reel, computer science, Arp; Vickie Kay Kirkpatrick, elementary education, Brownsboro; Annalisa Kelso, history, and Jacqueline McElroy, art, Bullard; Faye Gipson O'Neal, history, Carthage; Larry Hawkins, vocational education, Diana; James D. Bethke, political science, Flint; Cecilia Dawn Arrington, Melinda L. Smith, elementary education; Samantha Lynn Davis, nursing, Gilmer; Mary Ellen Smith, Hawkins; and Susan Starkey Bolton, accounting, Jacksonville.

Also, Sherry Gaye Bennet, computer science, Susan Wilson Ramsey, criminal justice, and Marilyn J. Sexton, nursing, Longview; Donna Janine Roberts, nursing, Murchison; Marion B. Thornton, elementary education, Palestine; Sherry Pool Shamburger, accounting, Troup; and Ann Louis Duhon, art, and Billy Scott Garner, computer science, Whitehouse.

Academic All-Americans

Three members of the UT Tyler Patriots tennis team have been named Academic All-Americans for 1987 by the National Association of Intercollegiate Athletics (NAIA).

Sandra Sigulinski, Per Ola Andersson and Daniel Henry Hovey are among 24 players chosen for the honor nationwide.

To be selected as an Academic All-American, a student must be attending a college or university fulltime, have a minimum grade point average of 3.25 and a demonstrated proficiency in intercollegiate tennis. Qualities such as citizenship and character, as well as involvement in extra curricular activities, are also considered.

NATIONAL HIGHER EDUCATION WEEK

celebrates the contributions of colleges and universities to American society, and focuses on the need for excellence at all levels of American education. Our nation's founders spoke eloquently of the vital importance of education in protecting our rights and freedoms.

WE THE PEOPLE BELIEVE IN EDUCATION

NATIONAL HIGHER EDUCATION WEEK: October 24 to 31st, 1987

King Scholarship Recipient

Sarah Miller

KING SCHOLARSHIP RECIPIENT — Sarah Miller, a junior majoring in elementary education, has been awarded the Martin Luther King Jr. Scholarship at UT Tyler, a $1,000 award established in honor of late civil rights leader Martin Luther King Jr. Miller is an active member of the UT Tyler Student Foundation and secretary of the Phi Theta Kappa Alumni Chapter. A resident of Abernathy, she is a 1986 graduate of Western Texas College in Snyder where she served as vice president of PTK and was named to "Who's Who Among Junior College Students." She has done volunteer work for the American Heart Association and the March of Dimes.

Photo by Kyle Stewart

Forum

THE UNIVERSITY OF TEXAS AT TYLER

Public Information Office
3900 University Boulevard
Tyler, Texas 75701

Published and issued eight times per year January, March, May, July, October, November, and twice in April by The University of Texas at Tyler in Tyler, Texas.
POSTMASTER: Send address changes to The University of Texas at Tyler, 3900 University Blvd., Tyler, Texas 75701.

Second class postage paid
Tyler, Texas 75701